

USE OF ALTHOUGH

"Although" is used to link two contrasting ideas or show that one fact makes the other fact surprising. It can be used at the beginning or in the middle of the sentence.

Task: Join the two sentences with the help of ALTHOUGH.

1. I like playing with my friends. + Sometimes we argue.

I like playing with my freinds although sometimes we argue.

2. I like playing video games. + I don't win ever.

3. I like going to school. + I ddon't like to study.

4. I didn't like th book first. + I ended up enjoying it.

5. I want to become an athlete. + I'm so lazy.

6. I went outside. + It was dark

7. I was having fun with my friends. + I was angry on them.

8. I'm cooking dinner tonight. + I'm not a good cook.

9. It's too hot outside. + We are going for a walk.

10. I was too tired. + I went to the party.

USE OF ALTHOUGH

Answer Key

1. I like playing with my friends. + Sometimes we argue.

I like playing with my freinds although sometimes we argue.

2. I like playing video games. + I don't win ever.

Although I like playing video games, I don't win ever. or I don't win ever although I like to play video games.

3. I like going to school. + I don't like to study.

I don't like to study although I like going to school. or Although I like going to school, I don't like to study.

4. I didn't like th book first. + I ended up enjoying it.

Although I didn't like the book first, I ended up enjoying it. or I ended up enjoying it although I didn't like the book first.

5. I want to become an athlete. + I'm so lazy.

Although I'm so lazy, I want to become an athlete. or I want to become an athlete although I'm so lazy.

6. I went outside. + It was dark.

Although it was dark, I went outside. or I went outside although it was dark.

7. I was having fun with my friends. + My friends were annoying me.

Although my friends were anoying me, I was having fun with them.

8. I'm cooking dinner tonight. + I'm not a good cook.

Although I'm not a good cook, I'm cooking dinner tonight. or I'm cooking dinner tonight although I'm not a good cook.

9. It's too hot outside. + We are going for a walk.

Although it's too hot outside, we are going for a walk. or We are going for a walk although it's too hot outside.

10. I was too tired. + I went to the party.

Although I was too tired, I went to the party. or I went to the party although I was too tired.

USE OF ALTHOUGH

"Although" is used to link two contrasting ideas or show that one fact makes the other fact surprising. It can be used at the beginning or in the middle of the sentence.

Task: Change the position of although from the beginning to the middle and write down the sentences.

1. Although it was raining, we went outside to play.

We went outside to play although it was raining.

2. Although I was tired, I stayed up late to finish my homework.
-
-

3. Although the cake looked delicious, I didn't eat any because I was full.
-
-

4. Although he had a cold, he still went to school.
-
-

5. Although it was hot outside, we decided to go for a hike.
-
-

6. Although the toy was broken, he played with it.
-
-

7. Although the book was difficult, she read it.
-
-

8. Although I'm bad at soccer, it's fun to play.
-
-

USE OF ALTHOUGH

"Although" is used to link two contrasting ideas or show that one fact makes the other fact surprising. It can be used at the beginning or in the middle of the sentence.

Task: Change the position of although from the beginning to the middle and write down the sentences.

Answer Key

1. Although it was raining, we went outside to play.

We went outside to play although it was raining.

2. Although I was tired, I stayed up late to finish my homework.

I stayed up late to finish my homework although I was tired.

3. Although the cake looked delicious, I didn't eat any because I was full.

I didn't eat any cake although it looked delicious.

4. Although he had a cold, he went to school.

He went to school although he had a cold.

5. Although it was hot outside, we decided to go for a hike.

We decided to go for a hike although it was hot outside.

6. Although the toy was broken, he played with it.

He played with the toy although it was broken.

7. Although the book was difficult, she read it.

She read the book although it was difficult.

8. Although I'm bad at soccer, it's fun to play.

It's fun to play soccer although I'm bad at it.

